Suicide at Silver Cliff.

Special to the Gazette.

SILVER CLIFF, May 1.—Mrs. Nora Turner died here last night from the effects of poison which she apparently took to end her life. She arrived here from Colorado Springs on Wednesday with her family of three children, accompanied by a man named Crosby. No further particulars can be given.

Pueblo Democracy.

PUEBLO, May 1. The democratic county convention met in this city to-day and selected the following delegates to the state convention: J. W. Frink, J. T. Edmundson, J. B. Cox, Jas. Howard, S. W. Walley, J. P. Hanna, Joseph McMurtrie, P. J. Desmond, H. R. Price, T. A. Duke, M. Sudseinski, B. F. Davis, and A. B. Patton. An election for two state committee men resulted in the choice of Henry Richardson and H. R. Price. There was much enthusiasm manifested.

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington News.

PROTEST AGAINST THE MINING BILL.

WASHINGTON, May 1. Representative Daggett to-day presented a memorial very numerously signed by the citizens of White Pine county, Nevada, vigorously protesting against the passage of the public land commission mining bill. They argue that the enactment of the section which proposes to confine the lodes of owners to vertical boundary plans would work irreparable injury to every branch of the mining industry, drive capital out of the state, incite frauds and blackmail suits, and paralyze the energies of all industrious citizens. They further represent that the requirements in regard to the manner of locating the mining claims and acquiring a title would practically put an end to exploration for minerals in new fields, destroy all hope of new discoveries, and eventually turn our now prosperous state into what it was previous to the discovery of the Comstock lode, a desolate waste, inhabited only by a few miserable Indians, and the still more miserable coyote. In conclusion they say the present law is ample for the protection of all interests, and as it bears with equal justice upon the rich and poor, we are opposed to any change whatever.

GENERAL GARFIELD EXPLAINS.

During a debate in the house on the internal revenue bill General Garfield made a long personal explanation ... spread broadcast over the country by one Rowell, the New York advertising agent, that he as a member of the ways and means committee was preventing cheap reading by failing to cast a deciding vote to admit wood pulp free. He gave this as a specimen of the way opinions as to public men are manufactured in the United States. He then showed there was a majority of five on the ways and means committee in favor of preventing free wood pulp, and declared the statement of Rowell absolutely false, and that the country ought to know it, and newspapers ought to stop repeating falsehood. Answering Mr. Frost, he said he had been in favor of bringing this bill before the house and ... although the duty on wood pulp was already far below all other protected articles on the list, he will favor reducing it as low as it can be reduced without absolutely destroying and crippling American industries. Below that he would not go for any clamor from any part of the world.

DEATH OF AN OLD VETERAN.

General Heinzelman died here this morning. He has been on the retired list for several years, having been retired on account of age with the title of major general. He won distinction during the Mexican war and on the border. At the breaking out of the rebellion he was placed in charge of the defence of Washington. He participated in the Peninsular campaign under McClellan, but saw no action in the field after 1862. His age required lighter duties. During the remainder of the war he was stationed at Washington in charge of the defences. He was known in the army as a very strict disciplinarian, and in the earlier part of the war was unpopular with the volunteer soldiers for this reason. He was brave and courageous in the discharge of his duties. When the war broke out, he never faltered in devotion to his country, and Lincoln considered him from the beginning one of his most trusted officers.

A NEW TARIFF BILL.

A bill is being prepared reducing the tariff on such materials as bichromate of potash, woollen and worsted goods, hats and straw goods. Mr. Tucker believes such a bill, while by no means as comprehensive as the advocates of a general tariff revision would desire, will harmonize widely the conflicting views and obtain sufficient favor to secure its passage by the house.

WHO IS TO BE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The New York Times thinks that Postmaster James, of New York, cannot receive the appointment of postmaster general in place of Postmaster General Key, resigned, because there is another member of the cabinet from New York. The same reason operates against the appointment of Assistant Postmaster General Tyner of Indiana. It is said that Eugene Hale of Maine has been proffered the position.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The debt statement decreases the public debt during April, $12,078,078; cash in the treasury, $194,613,930; gold certificates, $8,230,600; silver certificates, $12,043,720; certificates of deposit outstanding, $874,005; refunding certificates, $1,524,950; legal tenders outstanding, $346,681,046; fractional currency outstanding, $15,604,587.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS.

The annual post route bill has at length passed both houses and gone to the president.

Chairman Scales of the Indian Committee reported the Ute bill to-day. It was printed and recommitted.

The house committee on coinage are reported in favor of establishing two new mints, in which case Denver is likely to get one.

The house passed a resolution to-day authorizing the secretary of war to send 4,000 rations to Macon for the use of sufferers made destitute by the cyclone of April 26th.

President Making.

WEST VIRGINIA FOR BLAINE.

WHEELING, W. VA., May 1. The Ohio county republican convention elected 35 delegates instructed for Blaine to the state convention. West Virginia will be solid for Blaine. Anti-third term resolutions will be adopted.

ANTI-THIRD TERM CONVENTION.

ST. LOUIS, May 1. Matters appertaining to an anti-third term convention to be held here May 6th, are taking definite shape. The committee of arrangements and reception have been appointed and headquarters established. Necessary arrangements are perfected, and the attendance promises to be quite large.

INDEPENDENT GERMAN REPUBLICAN ADDRESS.

NEW YORK, May 1. The German American independent republican organization has delivered a supplementary address to the independent republican convention at St. Louis, reaffirming opposition to the nomination of Grant. They do not believe that the Chicago republican convention will mind any address or resolutions protesting against the nomination of General Grant, unless this convention becomes convinced that General Grant if nominated will be defeated. They do not believe that such conviction can be imparted to that convention unless the independent republican convention will meet at Chicago previous to, and at the time of the regular republican convention, fully prepared to nominate a third candidate, in case the latter convention should nominate General Grant, or any candidate whose honesty is not beyond suspicion, and they do believe that if such a third candidate is a well known citizen of ability and honesty, standing on a platform adopted by the republican party in 1876, the greater part, if not the whole of the republican vote may be concentrated upon him, so that he will be elected.

SENATOR CONKLING'S OPINION.

NEW YORK, May 1 A Washington special to the Evening Post says Senator Conkling this morning said he had information from Illinois which made him confident that state at its coming convention will declare for Grant; he considers Grant's nomination at Chicago absolutely certain.

A special to the Herald this morning gives a column account about Conkling's views on Grant's prospects, delivered with a view to publication. He says Grant will be nominated and elected by a large majority. He will carry New York and four southern states.

PRIMARIES IN WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, May 1.—The primaries to-day are strongly against a third term in their results. The citizens elect twenty-two delegates to the state convention; twenty are for Sherman, one for Edmunds and one for Washburne. The feeling in this city is very strong for Sherman and against instructing the delegation. Jefferson county gives Washburne two, Sherman one, Grant two, not known one. A resolution was passed endorsing Washburne.

Can a Chinaman Become a Citizen?

NEW YORK, May 1, The World, referring to the recent application of five Chinamen for naturalization papers declares no alien of the Mongolian race can be lawfully made a citizen of the United States unless a Mongolian can be correctly described as "a free white person." On what grounds can a person of Mongolian race be called "white persons?" Does not section 2,169 expressly exclude all aliens but "white persons," and persons of the African nationality or descent? One of the federal courts has decided that Chinamen cannot be naturalized in the United States, but our New York state courts go stumbling on "allee samee" as before.

Student Robbers.

TOPEKA, May 1.—The students at the agricultural college at Manhattan have been engaged in a systematical course of robbery. Several hundred dollars worth of boots and shoes, jewelry, dry goods, &c., were found in their rooms. They have been arrested.

Extensive Investigations.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Times' Washington special says useless investigation authorized by the democrats of the senate for the purpose of securing campaign capital has been so costly that the senate's contingent fund has been exhausted. Senator Davis has spent from ten to fifteen thousand dollars in his examination of the system of book keeping used by the treasury department and Senator Voorhees' attempt to discover why the colored people have exercised their rights to migrate from one state to another has used about $10,000. The democrats have induced the house to authorize the addition of $14,000 to the senate's depleted fund and are now trying to advise the senate to concur in this action. Republican senators have determined that there shall be some explanation of the cause of the defeat and with this object in view have succeeded in postponing action until Monday. Senator Eaton, who has charge of the resolution has informed the republican senators that he can not show why the fund has been exhausted and Senator Edmunds has called upon the secretary of the senate for a statement. Senator Eaton protests against the postponement on the grounds that the witnesses, who have appeared before the committee, are selling the government's promises to-day at 80 cents on the dollar. When Edmunds' resolution of inquiry was offered to-day Davis sought to break the force of the answer which must come, by moving that the statement furnished by the secretary should include the expenses so far back as 1878; but as the statements for 1878 and 1879 are already in print, he was forced to withdraw his amendment. Senator Conkling briefly reviewed the course of the democrats in authorizing the useless investigation and showed how worthless and expensive these partizan hunting expeditions have been.

The Grain Market.

CHICAGO, May 1. The week's grain business has been unusually large and the legitimate demand for all kinds of production considerably increased. The receipts have fallen off for all kinds of grain for the last year, but hogs have been coming freely under the influence of higher prices. The demand for provisions is very strong and it is probable the prices will reach their normal grade shortly. Grain has been largely at the mercy of the clique and the opinion strengthens that it is preparing for a long and strong pull between this and July. The theory that they have suffered the bears to beat down the rates without resistance in order that they might shake off hangers on and control the deal themselves is pretty nearly established by the condition of trade here during the past week and is confirmed by New York advices. To all appearances they are now merely waiting for a bulge on Europe which seems to be slower in coming than ever before. It is alleged the New Yorkers have been busily depressing the prices in Liverpool for the same purpose of getting rid of all opposition in their ownership here.

The deferred options in this market which have been at a great discount for June, being once nearly six cents below July and about twelve cents below May, are appreciating rapidly in value. Corn is attracting considerable attention. It appears that the stock has been diminishing here at a rapid rate and is now much smaller than at the same time last year, while receipts have fallen off also, and bid fair to be much smaller during May. It is regarded as probable that Europe will call for a heavy supply of corn from America before the new crop comes in next fall. This is more likely because of the complete failure of the root crop and the relatively high price of flour. Wheat—Prices in Liverpool have begun to rebound and are already better than for previous years. Oats are coming in pretty freely under the influence of high prices, but the demand is unchecked with fine weather. Prices are likely to keep steady. With unfavorable weather, there can be hardly a doubt of an improvement in every commodity.

Heavy Arrival of Immigrants.

NEW YORK, May 1, Five steamships arrived to-day from Europe, bringing 4,391 emigrants. The French papers state there are 20,000 persons waiting for means of transportation to this country. Two thousand are waiting berth in Havre. Three trains were dispatched to-day and three extra trains of 21 cars will be sent out to-morrow on the Erie Pennsylvania and New York Central.

Colonel Scott Resigns.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1. At a meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania railway to-day a semi-annual dividend of three per cent. was declared. The resignation of Col. Thos. A. Scott, who for the past six years has been president of the company, was received to take effect on the 1st of June. The resignation was referred to a committee for consideration and report at a meeting to be held next week. Scott's health caused him to resign.

Freight Rates.

NEW YORK, May 1. The dullness in the freight market continues to be a leading feature and is attributable to the unsettled state of affairs in San Francisco, as well as to the declining prices of goods of all descriptions. Until bottom prices are touched there are not likely to be many purchases for the California trade. Rates of freight are quoted more steady as but two lines have vessels. While there is a pretense to advance figures, one of the lines is accepting less than the rates current on the last vessels. The tonnage movement of the past month has been the largest of the year, amounting to six vessels registering 10,427 tons.

Pigeon Shooting.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—A. H. Bogardus won the pigeon shooting match with Fred. Erb, jr., of St. Joe, for $100 a side to-day. The score was 86 to 83, the best ever made under English rules.

Mining Stocks.

NEW YORK, May 1. The World says of yesterday's mining stock exchange. There was little change in the amount of business to-day, the sales aggregating 49,890 shares against 51,665 yesterday. The prices opened generally higher and the market has been a strong one, showing at the close considerable advance for most of the stocks. The feeling has so much improved that there was a pretty general hope that the worst was over and that next week might see a better market.

The Great Trotting Match.

NEW YORK, May 1. Alluding to the match between Santa Claus and Maude S. the Spirit of the Times says of all the young horses in the country Santa Claus is the one that we expected and would have wished to see accept the challenge of Vanderbilt's "phenomenon."

Heavy Judgment Against Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Judge Hare entered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $355,000, in a suit of Wm. Struthers and sons against the city, to recover warrants drawn on the city treasury by the president of the public building commission.

Walking Matches.

BUFFALO, May 1.—The score of the six days pedestrian match is as follows: Panchot, 406 miles; Faber, 405; Fitzgerald, 386; Herty, 360; Campana, 310; Bluett, 312. Panchot has evidently taxed his strength to the utmost. He has been staggering around the track for the last mile and fell from sheer exhaustion. His face was bruised and cut. Faber had a much swollen knee. Fitzgerald is used up. There is an immense crowd. Eight thousand tickets were sold to-day and about twenty-seven thousand during the week. The six-day heel and toe contest, under the management of O'Leary, begins May 31st.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1. The six days go-as-you-please has the following score: Albert, 412 miles; Redding, 387; Dufrane, 325; McKee, 285; Hughes, 404; Harriman, 378; Collier, 295, and Arnold, 250.

Pennsylvania Disgraced.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Tribune referring to the pardon of the Pennsylvania bribers says the whole business is disgraceful. Peaceful and prosperous Pennsylvania must need blush in the presence of distracted California. Dennis Kearney has been sent to jail for a year merely for making incendiary speeches. The city journals generally denounce bitterly the action of the pardoning board.

FOREIGN.

British Ignorance of American Politics.

LONDON, May 1.—The Pall Mall Gazette leader which may be regarded as Editor Greenwood's valedictory is a bitter protest against the political immorality which seeks to gull the apprehension regarding the new government's foreign policy by assurances that it will not differ materially from that of its predecessor. In an article headed "A First Snub" the Pall Mall Gazette says it is somewhat significant that the advent of the liberal party to power should have been seized upon by the American people as an occasion in which they might offer with impunity a slight to England. It was under Gladstone's first administration that Russia committed the gross breach of international faith by renouncing the treaty of 1856. The president of the United States now has been solicited by congress to commit another and even more serious breach of faith. It is true that the recommendation committee of foreign affairs of the senate and house of representatives will not of necessity be acted upon by the executive, but when it is remembered that one of the chamber is governed by the democratic party, and the other by the republican majority (sic) and further that the presidential election is at hand, there there can be but little doubt, that either President Hayes or his successor will be anxious to withdraw from the engagements imposed on his government by the Bulwer-Clayton convention. A revival of the Monroe doctrine in its extravagant sense is too good a cry to be discarded by the managers of either party. England's duty to her colonies requires she should assert their rights in the matter. France, Spain and Holland and all American powers can scarcely accept the proclamation of the Yankee sovereignty over the whole western hemisphere. Brazil and Chili are not likely to submit to it. Powerful as is the North American Union, it is not so strong as to be able to defy the public opinion of the world which would assuredly in such a question as this be on the side of the nation which took its stand on legality. Even the most zealous advocate of peace at any price must be anxious to uphold the treaties voluntarily made and concluded between friendly states. Gladstone, Lord Granville, and Bright will not be frightened by Yankee blusters into any cession of British right, so wisely stipulated for by Lord Palmerston thirty years ago. They will be less able to do so, if public opinion keeps close watch on the affair and having understood whose interests are involved in the execution of the Bulwer-Clayton treaty determine this convention shall not be settled for the mere sake of making things pleasant with the United States.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

Notice is hereby given that a republican county convention will be held at Court House Hall, Colorado Springs, Colorado, on Saturday, May 22d, 1880,

at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the Republican State Convention, to be held at Denver, on the 25th day of May, 1880, for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Republican Convention to be held at Chicago, on the 2d day of June, 1880, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention.

The several precincts of the county will be entitled to delegates as follows, to wit:

The Grant party now has a [illegible]

Our candidate before the Chicago convention—the man who will be elected [illegible]

The straight out whole, who fought in the field, appear to be the only honorable part of the democratic party. They will observe the [illegible] made by the party in regard to [illegible] the [illegible] delegates to the county convention which choose delegates to the state convention, and there will be no difficulty [illegible] El Paso county being misrepresented [illegible] the presidential candidate.

The Longmont Press is the only paper that stands up for that prince of frauds, "Brick Pomeroy. It believes in "fiat" men, and hence can see no harm in selling at a high figure the stock of a worthless mine, so long as the stamp on the stock certificate is all right.

The New York Herald infers from the manner in which Hayes' reconciliation policy has been received, that notwithstanding Grant's conciliation speeches in the south, he could get no votes. If the republican party relies for success on a single southern state, our chances are exceedingly slim.

When the republican administration uses bayonets to drive the Gunnison prospectors out of the reservation this summer, there will be a ballot box this side of the line where they can step and record their approval of that sort of thing by voting the republican ticket if they feel like it. Denver News.

Until those driven out [illegible] it, they can vote the democratic ticket, thus showing their appreciation of the democratic congress which refused to pass a bill opening up 11,000,000 acres of land to Colorado settlers.

All this makes Professor Wheeler appear [illegible] foolish as there is too much [illegible] Still we can see this [illegible] may induce congress to take speedy action. The deliberations of the cabinet and the orders of the war department all show that the danger is realized by the executive department in Washington. It is a democratic congress that is delaying a settlement of this question and, if the News [illegible] chooses to make this a party question it will be remembered [illegible]

Received from the Publishers and Condensed from Exchanges

England has a Wordsworth club.

The Talleyrand Memoirs will not appear until 1888.

"His Majesty, Myself," is in its [illegible] edition.

Mrs. Burnett will have a new novel ready in the autumn.

The Harpers will bring out the "Life of Dr. Horace Bushnell" in about a fortnight.

Houghton, Osgood & Co. publish soon Mrs. Whitney's new [illegible] "Odd or Even?"

Swinburne's new volume of poems will be published here by Worthington before it appears in England.

The last issue of the Franklin Square Series is "The Nineteenth Century" by Robert McKenzie.

A poem written by Charles Kingsley in 1844 is published for the first time in Macmillan's Magazine for April.

In the Seaside Library the publication of Conybeare and Howson's "Life and Epistle of St. Paul" has been begun.

The sale of Miss Sprague's "Earnest Trifles" continues. About a week since Messrs. Houghton, Osgood & Co. filled an order of a western house for 450 copies.

Farrar's "Life of Christ has been translated into Russian, and nearly all the bookstalls in Moscow have it for sale. The price asked for it is equivalent to $1.25.

Messrs. Jansen, McClurg & Co. announce that on May 1 they will issue the first number of a monthly periodical, devoted to literary news and criticism, to be called "The Dial."

Four [illegible] have been sold in England of the translation of the Roman Memoirs by Mrs. Cashel Hoey and Mr. John Lillie. So excellent a translation deserved such success.

Among the Italian subscribers to St. Nicholas and Wide Awake is the heir apparent to the throne. Both the little prince and his mother, Queen Margherita speak English readily.

Susan Coolidge has a review of Henry James, Jr.'s "Confidence" in the latest issue of the Literary World. She is not at all complimentary, and says of the closing chapters: "A stranger and more [illegible] it would be difficult to find [illegible]"

Harper & Brothers announce "The Land and the Book," by William M. Thomson, D. D., a large volume on the Holy Land consisting of Biblical illustrations drawn from the manners, customs and scenery of Southern Palestine and Jerusalem. It has 140 illustrations and maps, and comprises nearly 700 pages.

Many years ago a novel called "Rutledge" by an unknown American author was much talked about, and now a new novel entitled "Mary," by the same author, will be published by Messrs. G. W. Carleton & Co., who anticipate as great a demand for the latter as for the former, of which 50,000 copies were sold.

Roberts Brothers have published "Reminiscences of the Rev. Wm. Ellery Channing" by Elizabeth P. Peabody, who as a child was his [illegible]

[illegible] of the [illegible] of New York has published a Discourse on [illegible] prepared by Rev. W. [illegible]

A new valuable paper in the April [illegible] Magazine is by W. [illegible] on Ireland After [illegible] He charges the bad condition of Ireland to drunkenness, [illegible] ignorance and gambling.

An important political work by Louis Kossuth will soon be published in London by Cassell, Peter & Galpin. Its chief [illegible] is said to be in that it gives the secret history and details of the [illegible] between England, the Emperor Napoleon, and Count Cavour, during the period of the establishment of the Italian Kingdom.

The venerable head of Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon, of New Haven, in the May number of the Eclectic Magazine, is a welcome addition to the fine gallery of portraits which that popular periodical has provided for its readers. Among the varied and [illegible] literary contents of the number are an [illegible] paper on "Copyright," by Matthew Arnold.

The April number of the Literary News published by Mr. F. Leypoldt, of New York gives [illegible] proof of [illegible] a valuable guide for home reading [illegible] What with judicious reviews of late publications, a series of prize questions on literary topics, characteristic extracts, and the [illegible] literary news, its readers not only have much to entertain them, but are kept fully informed of what is going on and what is about to take place in the world of letters.

Mr. Noah Brooks, of the New York Times, finds time, amid his editorial labors, for some excellent story-writing, beginning in the May St. Nicholas a new story we have noticed elsewhere. Before he came to New York he was well known on the Pacific coast as "Castine", the Washington correspondent of the Sacramento Union in war times, and managing editor for some years of the Alta California. He adopted his pen name by reason of having been born and brought up in Castine, Maine, on the shore of Penobscot bay.

Harper & Bros., in addition to books previously mentioned, will have ready this spring the fifth and concluding volume of [illegible] translated by Professor Henry B. Smith and completed by Mrs. Mary A. Robinson, [illegible] a daughter of Professor Edward Robinson. An expected volume of original work in art will be by Charles Eliot Norton, "Historical Studies of Church Buildings in the Middle Ages" (Venice, Siena, Florence), and John Addington Symonds' "Sketches and Studies in Southern Europe," in two volumes, which will be reprinted and a companion [illegible]

Edwin Arnold has written a second letter to I. K. Funk & Co. about the publication by them of an edition of the "Light of Asia." He says: "You will please not understand the note which I recently addressed to you as authorizing any issue of my book which would interfere with the fair interests of Messrs. Roberts Bros. of Boston, to whose initiative "The Light of Asia" owes so much of its popularity in America. I desired only to acknowledge the compliment paid, and to beg that my name might be correctly printed as Edwin, not Thomas." This would seem to put a different phase to the meaning of the letter which was published two weeks ago, from Mr. Arnold, furnished by Messrs. I. K. Funk & Co.

The [illegible] of the [illegible] in Patagonia and the Falkland Islands of the Rev. Titus Coan, one of the oldest of living missionaries, is published by Dodd, Meade & Co., with a brief introduction by the Rev. Henry M. Field, D. D. He set sail for the Hawaiian Islands, which had then [illegible] the voyages of whaling vessels become partially well known in this country, in 1835 as a missionary. "At first it was impossible for him to communicate with the savage natives, except through interpreters, but in three [illegible] he was enabled through diligent study to preach to them in their vernacular. Being something of a doctor also he ingratiated himself with his flock by [illegible] blood" and vaccination, and was soon highly popular. Mr. Coan and his wife remained on the islands thirty-five years before revisiting their native country, [illegible] in 1870 and [illegible] again in 1871. In 1873 his wife and child died and Mr. Coan, now eighty years old, [illegible] in the islands of the Pacific doing his duty alone.

Taylor, of Broadway Tabernacle $12,000, Dr. [illegible] of Grace Church, gets $12,000 and a [illegible] Dr. Dix of Trinity $12,000, and the pastor of St. [illegible] Church $10,000. [illegible] other New York ministers get from $5,000 to $10,000, but most less than $5,000.

The Tribune of Montreal, after discussing the question whether a Roman Catholic priest on becoming a Protestant should be re-ordained or not, came to the decision that the ordination of the Church of Rome is confessedly [illegible] and [illegible] so that the admission of a [illegible] priest to the [illegible] of an ordained presbyter without the imposition of hands is [illegible] sufficient.

It is [illegible] that [illegible] and missions of all denominations in New York a gain of 98 in the last ten years. Of these [illegible] are set out as Protestant, with accommodations for 285,000 persons. The Episcopalians have the most of all the Protestant churches, 88, with 52,895 sittings. The Presbyterians have 69 churches, with 45,241 sittings. The Methodists have 61 churches with [illegible] sittings. The Baptists have 48 churches, with 26,912 sittings. The Reformed Dutch have 28 churches 14,985 sittings, the Lutherans 23, with 8,891 sittings. The Roman Catholics have 57 churches, with 71,785 sittings, the largest number of any sect in the city. It is estimated that the present population of New York proper is from 1,250,000 to 1,300,000 more than three quarters of all the inhabitants could not get into church if they should wish to.

Mr. William Mercer, a Protestant gentleman residing in Rome, backs up the correspondent of the Catholic Tablet as to the sale of the Bible in Rome. He says: "The sale of the Holy Scriptures is now a recognized trade in the unholy hand of wayfaring hawkers, who combine in themselves the rapacity of the Italian mendicant, the greed of the unsavory flower seller and the pertinacious insolence of the itinerant organ-grinder. It cannot have formed part of the intentions of the English Bible Societies to thus put to an open shame, and frequent angry rebukes, the sacred [illegible] These [illegible] pursue their traffic apparently with a [illegible] to defy and insult passers by, [illegible] of all other considerations. The Corso and the cafe, the chief places of [illegible] are not and cannot be made, appropriate marts for Bible and prayer books."

The secessions from the Dutch Reformed church and the [illegible] Protestant Eglise Wallonne in Holland are constantly increasing. M. Albert Reville, of the Revue des Deux Mondes and Dr. Allard Pierson, when still popular preachers with the Walloon community of Rotterdam seceded some ten years ago. Both are now university teachers, the former at the College de France, the latter at the [illegible] Amsterdam University. Busken Huet, of a race of distinguished Huguenot preachers, resigned his ministry in the Walloon church to take the editorship of an Indian government organ. The Free Kirk movement was set on foot about two years ago by the two [illegible] Hugenholtz who had seceded, together with their congregations, from the National Reformed church. Since then, within a year's time, three of the most distinguished [illegible] in the Protestant churches have sent in their resignations to the Kerkeraad (Church Council), one with the object of spreading socialistic views, the two others on [illegible] grounds.

Songs and Ballads of the 17th Century.

We propose in other selections to give [illegible] of the [illegible] of religious [illegible] which perhaps are the purest and most elevated of any in our language, also those [illegible] which serve better than history to tell us of the character of the great struggle between king and commons, cavalier and puritan.

[illegible]

My Love and I for kisses played,
She would keep stakes—I was content;
But when I won she would be paid;
This made me ask her what she meant.
"Pray, since I see," quoth she, "your wrangling vain,
Take your own kisses; give me mine again."
William Strode, 1598-1644.

On a Girdle

That which her slender waist confined
Shall now my joyful temples bind:
No monarch but would give his crown,
His arms might do what this has done.

It was my heaven's extremest sphere,
The pale which held that lovely deer.
My joy, my grief, my hope, my love,
Did all within this circle move!

A narrow compass! and yet there
Dwelt all that's good, and all that's fair;
Give me but what this ribbon bound,
Take all the rest the sun goes round.
Edmund Waller, 1605-1687.

The Chronicle: a Ballad

Margarita first possessed,
If I remember well, my breast,
Margarita first of all;
But when a while the wanton maid
With my restless heart had played,
Martha took the flying ball.

Martha soon did it resign
To the beauteous Catharine.
Beauteous Catharine gave place
(Though loth and angry she to part
With the possession of my heart)
To Eliza's conquering face.

Eliza till this hour might reign,
Had she not evil counsels ta'en.
Fundamental laws she broke,
And still new favorites she chose,
Till up in arms my passions rose,
And cast away her yoke.

Mary then, and gentle Anne,
Both to reign at once began;
Alternately they swayed;
And sometimes Mary was the fair,
And sometimes Anne the crown did wear,
And sometimes both I obeyed.

Another Mary then arose,
And did rigorous laws impose;
A mighty tyrant she!
Long, alas! should I have been
Under that iron-sceptred queen,
Had not Rebecca set me free.

When fair Rebecca set me free,
'Twas then a golden time with me:
But soon those pleasures fled;
For the gracious princess died
In her youth and beauty's pride,
And Judith reigned in her stead.

One month, three days, and half an hour,
Judith held the sovereign power:
Wondrous beautiful her face,
But so weak and small her wit,
That she to govern was unfit,
And so Susanna took her place.

But when Isabella came,
Armed with a resistless flame,
And the artillery of her eye;
Whilst she proudly marched about,
Greater conquests to find out,
She beat out Susan, by the by.

But in her place I then obeyed
Black-eyed Bess, her viceroy-maid,
To whom ensued a vacancy.
Thousand worse passions then possessed
The interregnum of my breast.
Bless me from such an anarchy!

Gentle Henrietta then,
And a third Mary next began,
Then Joan, and Jane, and Audria.
And then a pretty Thomasine,
And then another Catharine,
And then a long et cetera.

But should I now to you relate
The strength and riches of their state,
The powder, patches, and the pins,
The ribbons, jewels, and the rings,
The lace, the paint, and warlike things
That make up all their magazines;

If I should tell the politic arts
To take and keep men's hearts,
The letters, embassies, and spies,
The frowns, and smiles, and flatteries,
The quarrels, tears, and perjuries,
Numberless, nameless mysteries!

And all the little lime-twigs laid
By Machiavel the waiting-maid;
I more voluminous should grow
(Chiefly if I like them should tell
All change of weathers that befell)
Than Holinshed or Stow.

But I will briefer with them be,
Since few of them were long with me.
A higher and a nobler strain
My present emperess does claim,
Heleonora, first o' the name,
Whom God grant long to reign!
Abraham Cowley, 1618-1667.

The Manly Heart

Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
Or make pale my cheeks with care,
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fairer than the day,
Or the flowery meads in May,
If she be not so to me,
What care I how fair she be?

Should my heart be grieved or pined
'Cause I see a woman kind?
Or a well-disposed nature
Joined with a lovely feature?
Be she meeker, kinder than
Turtle dove or pelican,
If she be not so to me,
What care I how kind she be?

Shall a woman's virtues move
Me to perish for her love?
Or her well-deservings known
Make me quite forget mine own?
Be she with that goodness blest
That may gain her name of Best,
If she be not such to me,
What care I how good she be?

'Cause her fortune seems too high,
Shall I play the fool and die?
Those that bear a noble mind,
Where they want of riches find,
Think what with them they would do
That without them dare to woo;
And unless that mind I see,
What care I, though great she be?

Great or good, or kind, or fair,
I will ne'er the more despair;
If she love me, this believe,
I will die ere she shall grieve;
If she slight me when I woo,
I can scorn and let her go;
For if she be not for me,
What care I for whom she be?
George Wither, 1588-1667.

Disdain Returned

He that loves a rosy cheek,
Or a coral lip admires,
Or from star-like eyes doth seek
Fuel to maintain his fires;
As old Time makes these decay,
So his flames must waste away.

But a smooth and steadfast mind,
Gentle thoughts and calm desires,
Hearts with equal love combined,
Kindle never-dying fires.
Where these are not, I despise
Lovely cheeks, or lips, or eyes.
Thomas Carew, 1589-1639.

To Lucasta, on Going to the Wars.

Tell me not, sweet, I am unkind,
That from the nunnery
Of thy chaste breast and quiet mind,
To war and arms I fly.

True, a new mistress now I chase,
The first foe in the field;
And with a stronger faith embrace
A sword, a horse, a shield.

Yet this inconstancy is such
As you too shall adore;
I could not love thee, dear, so much,
Loved I not honor more.
Richard Lovelace, 1618-1658.

A Ballad Upon a Wedding

I tell thee, Dick, where I have been,
Where I the rarest things have seen;
Oh, things without compare!
Such sights again cannot be found
In any place on English ground,
Be it at wake or fair.

At Charing Cross, hard by the way,
Where we, thou know'st, do sell our hay,
There is a house with stairs;
And there did I see coming down
Such folk as are not in our town,
Forty, at least, in pairs.

Amongst the rest, one pestilent fine
(His beard no bigger, though, than thine)
Walked on before the rest:
Our landlord looks like nothing to him:
The King (God bless him!) 'twould undo him,
Should he go still so drest.

At Course-a-park, without all doubt,
He should have first been taken out
By all the maids i' the town:
Though lusty Roger there had been,
Or little George upon the Green,
Or Vincent of the Crown.

But wot you what? the youth was going
To make an end of all his wooing;
The parson for him staid:
Yet by his leave, for all his haste,
He did not so much wish all past,
Perchance, as did the maid.

The maid, and thereby hangs a tale,
For such a maid no Whitsun-ale
Could ever yet produce:
No grape that's kindly ripe could be
So round, so plump, so soft as she,
Nor half so full of juice.

Her finger was so small, the ring
Would not stay on, which they did bring;
It was too wide a peck;
And, to say truth (for out it must),
It looked like the great collar (just)
About our young colt's neck.

Her feet beneath her petticoat
Like little mice, stole in and out,
As if they feared the light:
But oh, she dances such a way!
No sun upon an Easter day
Is half so fine a sight.

Her cheeks so rare a white was on,
No daisy makes comparison
(Who sees them is undone),
For streaks of red were mingled there,
Such as are on a Catherine pear,
The side that's next the sun.

Her lips were red, and one was thin
Compared to that was next her chin
(Some bee had stung it newly);
But, Dick, her eyes so guard her face,
I durst no more upon them gaze,
Than on the sun in July.

Her mouth so small, when she does speak,
Thou'dst swear her teeth her words did break,
That they might passage get;
But she so handled still the matter,
They came as good as ours, or better,
And are not spent a whit.

Passion o' me! how I ran on!
There's that that would be thought upon,
I trow, besides the bride;
The business of the kitchen's great,
For it is fit that men should eat;
Nor was it there denied.

Just in the nick the cook knocked thrice,
And all the waiters in a trice
His summons did obey;
Each serving-man, with dish in hand,
Marched boldly up, like our trained band,
Presented, and away.

When all the meat was on the table,
What man of knife, or teeth, was able
To stay to be entreated?
And this the very reason was,
Before the parson could say grace,
The company was seated.

Now hats fly off, and youths carouse;
Healths first go round, and then the house,
The bride's came thick and thick:
And when 'twas named another's health,
Perhaps he made it hers by stealth;
And who could help it, Dick?
Sir John Suckling, 1609-1641.

Song

Why so pale and wan, fond lover?
Prithee, why so pale?
Will, when looking well can't move her,
Looking ill prevail?
Prithee, why so pale?

Why so dull and mute, young sinner?
Prithee, why so mute?
Will, when speaking well can't win her,
Saying nothing do't?
Prithee, why so mute?

Quit, quit for shame! this will not move;
This cannot take her.
If of herself she will not love,
Nothing can make her,
The devil take her.
Sir John Suckling, 1609-1641.

"Select List"

Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Select List of Local Newspapers.

Many persons suppose this list to be composed of CHEAP, low-priced newspapers. The fact is quite otherwise. The catalogue states exactly what the papers are. When the name of a paper is printed in FULL FACE TYPE it is in every instance the BEST. When printed in CAPITALS it is the ONLY paper in the place. The list gives the population of every town and the circulation of every paper. IT IS NOT A CO-OPERATIVE LIST. IT IS NOT A CHEAP LIST. At the foot of the catalogue for each state the important towns which are not covered by the lists are enumerated. IT IS AN HONEST LIST.

An old advertiser writes: "I prefer the LOCAL LIST for the reason that, while but few persons in any particular town subscribe for a class medium (or large city weekly), nine out of ten subscribe for their local paper, and the tenth one borrows it from his neighbor."

An advertiser, who spends upwards of $5,000 a year, and who invested less than $350 of it in this list, writes: "Your Select Local List paid me better last year THAN ALL THE OTHER ADVERTISING I DID."

The rates charged for advertising are barely one-fifth the publishers' schedule. The price for single states ranges from $2 to $80. The price for one inch one month in the entire list is $650. The regular rates of the papers for the same space and time are $3,083.16. The list includes 977 newspapers, of which 193 are issued DAILY and 784 WEEKLY. They are located in 807 different cities and towns, of which 28 are state capitals, 371 places of over 5,000 population, and 485 county seats.

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. conduct an agency for the reception of advertisements for American newspapers. The most complete establishment of the kind in the world.

Eight thousand newspapers are kept regularly on file, open to the inspection of customers.

Every advertisement is inserted at the home price of the paper, without any additional charge or commission.

An advertiser in dealing with the agency, is saved trouble and correspondence, having one contract instead of a dozen, a hundred or a thousand.

A book of 120 pages, containing lists of best papers; largest circulations, religious, agricultural, class, political, daily and county papers, and all publications which are especially valuable to advertisers, with some information about prices, is sent to any address on receipt of ten cents.

Persons at a distance wishing to make contracts for advertising in any town, city, county, state or territory of the United States, or any portion of the Dominion of Canada, may send a concise statement of what they want, together with a copy of the ADVERTISEMENT they desire inserted, and will receive, by return mail, an estimate of the cost.

For such information and estimate there is no charge.

Orders are taken for a single paper as well as for a list; for a single dollar as readily as for a larger sum.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. also publish the American Newspaper Directory (price $5), in which will be found a complete list of all American newspapers, and a Gazetteer of the towns in which they are issued.

VILLAGE NEWSPAPERS.

A list of nearly twelve hundred county and village newspapers, having an aggregate weekly edition of

692,891

ACTUAL COPIES ISSUED.

Advertisements, large or small, can be inserted in the entire list for $6 a line per week, and reading notices for $12 a line. A card occupying one inch of space is inserted one week for $75; or one year for $2,000.

MINING NEWS.

Notes of Progress and Discovery.

Sheep mountain mining is going steadily forward.

Miners of Mayflower gulch are attracting many buyers.

Several new prospects are being opened out in Elk mountain.

Mine development goes steadily forward on Elk mountain.

Owners of the Butcher Boy are rewarded by a continued improvement of that lode.

Great gold veins clearly defined are exposed to view in the mountains at the head of Mayflower gulch.

The Last Chance mine on Jack mountain, owned by J. H. Hopkins and others, shows an assay of eighty-five ounces.

Great quantities of mineral will soon be exposed to view in the well known galena localities of Bartlett and Chalk mountains.

The White Fawn mine, on Sheep mountain, owned by Thomas & Sipple is reported to have a four foot vein or crevice, which is profusely streaked with mineral.

Among the transfers of mining property reported in the Fairplay Flume is 1/5 of the Black Hawk and Bulger lodes for $20,000.

The Tombstone Mill and Mining company of Arizona will pay another dividend of ten cents a share on the 10th of May. Many such and larger dividends may be expected from this company.

On Tuesday night the Forrest, Nettie B. and Tiger lodes are to be consolidated. Owners, Messrs. Foss and Sutherland and the place of meeting to discuss and combine the said property is the office of J. L. Clark, Esq.

There has been a persistent and systematic endeavor for some weeks past on the part of same of the largest stock operators in the eastern money centers to depress the market, and to this attempt to "bear" all securities, a portion of the decline in Colorado mining stocks may be attributed.

The Mining Record says: "The Edison process, according to a letter from the distinguished inventor to a gentleman in Salt Lake City, dated April 19, 1880, is only applicable "to placer deposits and not to gold bearing quartz." We had supposed, and are surprised to hear otherwise, that the process would be applicable to any gold bearing quartz reduced artificially to the fineness of ordinary tailing. If not, why not?"

Quite a breezy gold excitement has sprung up in northern Georgia. Nuggets of gold weighing from five to 440 pennyweights have been picked up in Ocochie Valley, in White county. One vegetable gardener, with two hands at an expense of $1.50, took out four pounds of pure ore. The mountains in that vicinity are said to be rich in gold and the wonder is that capitalists have not long since devoted more attention to that promising locality.

The Kokomo Times says: "A specimen from the Mountain Lion lode on Jack mountain, shown us by Mr. Cruiher, one of the owners of that hole, is the finest specimen in point of beauty we have seen. It consists in having the colors blue, dark blue, very deep green and rich yellow all blended, forming a very beautiful piece of mineral, but this is not all that is to be found in the composition, rich yellow and dark carbonates of which, in this mine there are now about three feet, shows that a little bonanza of silver will reward the labor expended. To sum up the whole we may say it is a very beautiful and rich specimen bearing silver and gold. We will speak more fully of the subject at some future time.

The Laramie Daily Times of April 26th, has the following: "On Friday last a party of Douglass Creek miners, who had only arrived at Cummins City the day before, struck a rich vein of quartz carrying free gold in large quantities. The names of this party are I. M. Bird, E. Moore, B. F. Smith, H. W. Pollock and F. Leavens. Being out of grub and short of funds, they sold it to Cummins & Co. for the sum of $3,550. Mr. Ed. Gilman came in with them yesterday, the deed was executed this morning and the cash paid over. They outfitted immediately and returned to the mines to-day. Although the shaft on the new discovery is only down two feet, the remarkable richness of the ore shows that they sold entirely too low. We have a specimen of it in this office from which chunks of pure gold stick out all over it."

The Las Vegas Gazette of April 27th gives the following concerning the White Oaks mining district. "Sunday evening Mr. H. Freeman arrived direct from the White Oaks mining district. He came through on mule back. He reports everybody confident of the mines there and states that there is no apprehension among the miners there in reference to the Indian troubles. They are all well armed and feel perfectly equal to the emergency. They do not apprehend any danger to parties going into the mines, but think that the only danger is to persons prospecting in the mountains, as the Indians have taken to the mountains and would likely take advantage of a weak party. Mr. Freeman is so confident of his good prospects that he has stuck his stakes for good in the White Oaks and will settle up his affairs here and load up to-day. He will start back to-morrow to remain permanently."

UP AND DOWN THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gathered from our Exchanges.

The railroad assessment of Bent county for this year foots up as follows: Union Pacific Railway company, 63.07 miles, $453,169.30; Pueblo and Arkansas Valley, 150.80 miles, $1,210,152.90. Total, $1,663,332.20.

Entries to the Hotel stakes of the Jockey Club races close on Saturday, at the office of the Colorado Industrial Association. It is race No. 2, for three year olds, one and a quarter mile dash, stakes $300, with inside stakes of $50. Horsemen, and those training colts, will remember the fact. Entries for the purse races close May 15th.

The Silver Cliff Miner has the following poetic item: "Last night about 11 o'clock, while the clouds were being driven rapidly in an easterly direction, a most beautiful spectacle was presented by a light, milky cloud forming itself into the shape of a horse-shoe and hanging motionless for a time directly over our city, an omen, let us hope, of Silver Cliff's permanency and prosperity."

The Greeley Tribune gives the following account of a brave deed: "Last Friday afternoon a team was seen running away towards town from the Delta. Several persons tried to stop it but without effect, until, as it passed O. Howard's, young Helgerson dashed out, and failing to make the horses veer out from their course, succeeded in catching a rein. He was instantly jerked to the ground, but held on. His two hundred pounds weight so retarded the speed of the horse to whose rein he clung that after he had been dragged a few rods he made the runaways face right about, and then sprang to his feet and accosted them. When expostulated with for his risky act, he said: "O, I hate to see horses running away."

WAR AMONG THE HERDERS.

The Fat Contributor in a letter to the Denver News gives the particulars of a fight that is going on in Las Animas between the cattle and sheep men. Among other things he says: "A bitter war is now going on on the Apishapah between Messrs. Bartells and the numerous cattle owners in his vicinity. Mr. Bartell and brother are probably the largest sheep owners in Southern Colorado their flocks numbering upwards of twenty thousand. Meeting the junior member of the firm today I interviewed him on this troubling subject. He remarked: "We can have no peace until we purchase the soil. We prefer to increase our acres and reduce the number of our shot-guns. Our herders have to go armed to the teeth as much as they would in the Ute reservation. We are getting tired of this business. Last year we went upon a high mountain with our flocks to get away from the cattle men, but they soon found me and would not let us lie, fired upon our herders, killed our sheep and destroyed our camp. This season, thinking we would avoid trouble and be at peace with our fellowmen, we purchased the rights of some Mexican settlers on the Salough, some extensive springs in the desert between the Santa Clara and the Apishapah, eight miles from any other water or settlers. But here we are worse off than on the mountain top. Jones upon the north, McAnana upon the south, and the devil on all sides are driving us mad. The net earnings of our sheep will reach ten thousand dollars per year, yet had we known what we were to encounter, we should never have invested until the day we could own the soil. We first tried this business in Pueblo county, and there had five thousand dollars worth of sheep slaughtered in one night. On account of which, myself and firm drew out of that county a hundred thousand dollars in capital. We find the same difficulty growing into magnitude here in Las Animas. Where shall we go? Rap at the doors of congress, said I, and keep asking that these arid lands be sold for what they are worth in quantities to suit the purchaser, that is the only remedy."

A contemporary contains a long article entitled "Effect of Smoking on Boys." It is not right to smoke on boys. It imparts a disagreeable odor to their clothes. And when they go home they arouse suspicions in the minds of their mothers which are difficult to eradicate. The effect of smoking on some boys would be a rock hurled at the head of the writer.

GENTLEMEN:

Having recently received my new assortment of Spring Goods from one of the well-known importing houses at the east, I am prepared to make an announcement extraordinary. The stock now exhibited on my shelves is far superior to anything heretofore brought to Colorado Springs, and consists of the latest novelties in Worsted Suitings and Pant Goods; I am therefore enabled to offer to the citizens of Colorado Springs, Manitou and Colorado City, better inducements and by far a better Selected Stock of Merchant Tailoring Goods than ever before. I defy competition with the trade of Colorado in prices.

Come and see for yourselves.

Business Suits, $30. Pants, $8.

Hoping that you will grant me your patronage, with the full assurance that I will do all in my power to give satisfaction.
